Mon, Apr 26th 2021, 12:42 PM

Seven months after Leno first offered to help put a tablet in the hands of every student, the Minister of Education and Leno's founder today declared "amazing success," thanking donors and winding up the campaign that helped to deliver a tablet or learning device to every student in need.

"This is an historic day, marking a milestone that only a little over six months ago seemed an almost impossible goal, equipping every student in The Bahamas who needed one with a learning device to enable them to participate in virtual learning," said Minister of Education Jeffrey Lloyd.

The minister was speaking at a press conference called this morning at the Ministry of Education to recognize donors and partners who contributed to the Leno Learning Link campaign.
